Basically, that means that some updated information has been incorporated into the Oracle Help Screens for OTA. As has always been true, there are some OTA screens where no specific window Help is available. If a user clicks on the Question Mark icon or uses Help/Window Help on these screens, they will continue to see an error notice similar to this. 'HTTP Error 404 An error occurred while retrieving Oracle Applications Help information. Help target CIV/B_BOARD_CG$WINDOW_1 could not be found.' This error does no harm; and despite its appearance, OTA Oracle Help actually is available. Just look on the left side of the screen where the HTTP Error is displayed, and there will be a find screen for searching by topic (not that useful, but it's there). Below the "Online Help" search block is either a list of OTA topics or a general heading such as Oracle Training Administration that can be clicked on and expanded to show the list of OTA topics. From there, the process remains unchanged - double click the desired topic to see a fuller explanation.	Oracle	Training
